Year 3 and the Stone Age

This morning, we walked far through the forest next to an overflowing river. Me and Om were waiting for fifteen seconds and soon. Meanwhile, I've sat on a rock beside Om for a few minutes. "Why's there no fish?", Said Om. "There is fish," said Om's father, when he appeared.

Om and I heard a shout saying, "LOOK!" "A reindeer?" It galloped and ran to eat grass. We snatched our spears and we got our tools.

We crept slowly towards the reindeer, behind the trees silently. Om crouched quietly focused on the reindeer. "Shh!", I whispered, trying not scare it.

Om and I tried to throw spears at the reindeer. Om's aim was bad. What on earth was that? That's a rubbish throw!

LO: Write a narrated narrative

One day, on a sunnny, cozy morning, Me and my friend Sun, were hiking towards the just flowing river which is across the fields. The Sun rose high as I crouched by the river, waiting next to one of the men who were fishing by the flowing river. It had been a long morning, and we hadn't seen any fishes in the translucent water! But a moment later, they gured at the water, then, they dropped to like lightning their spears like lightning. Hey! We got a fish! Said Om. Really? pull it out! Ok.

In Year 3 we have been learning about the Stone Age, both in our English and History lessons. This week we have been writing about what it would be like to be on a Stone Age hunting expedition, with a technical focus on tenses, dialogue and using a rich and varied vocabulary. I'm sure you'll agree that the children have done a fabulous job at bringing to life such an unusual experience.
