Celebrating Neurodiversity Week at Malmesbury Park

This week, we are proud to celebrate Neurodiversity Week, a time to recognise and embrace the many different ways our brains work. At Malmesbury Park, we believe that every child is unique, and Neurodiversity Week is a wonderful opportunity to promote understanding and inclusion for all.

Neurodiversity refers to the different ways people think, learn, and process the world around them. This includes conditions such as autism, ADHD, dyslexia, and dyspraxia, among others. Rather than seeing these differences as challenges, we celebrate them as strengths!

Throughout the week, children will take part in activities that help them learn more about neurodiversity, encourage empathy, and highlight the amazing contributions of neurodivergent individuals in all walks of life. We encourage families to continue these conversations at home, helping to build a world where everyone feels valued and supported.

Let's celebrate the strengths in thinking differently!

Year 6 Parents

We would like to celebrate year 6's achievements this year by holding a BBQ and disco on the 18th July in school. To make this a possibility we would need some parents who would be willing to organise the event. If you would like to get involved then please let the year 6 team know.
